Building Bridges to Paradise 2011

Benefiting The Arc of the Capital Area
Wednesday, Oct. 5, 2011 – Hilton Austin, Downtown

Dear Community Supporter,

The Arc of the Capital Area, a non-profit organization serving adults and children with intellectual and developmental disabilities, will hold its 12th annual “Building Bridges” Art Celebration & Auction, Wednesday, Oct. 5, at the Hilton Austin Downtown. As a valued member of the community, we wanted to contact you about contributing to this prestigious gala event, our biggest fundraiser of the year.

This year’s event is all about discovering Paradise. The Arc provides resources to clients with disabilities to help “Build Bridges” so each may have the opportunity to discover their own potential.

Coined as THE art event to attend in Austin, the gala features more than 150 original professionally framed art pieces from local artists. More than 50 percent of the art is created by our artists at the Arc of the Arts Studio & Gallery (6717 Burnet Road) with the remainder coming from professional donors in Central Texas and beyond. It’s a not to be missed artravaganza!

This year, an original art piece Bridges on Blue has been donated from local favorite Linda Dumont.

In addition to the amazing art available, the evening is complimented by a stellar silent auction supported by more than 100 local business package donations and a live auction, featuring other original Arc of the Art’s masterpieces.

The event continues to give local Austinites, movers and shakers a reason to party for a purpose. As a donor, you’ll be recognized by some of the savviest local businesses, entrepreneurs and individuals who support The Arc’s commitment to the community, to assist more than 2,000 families and people with disabilities to live independent lives.

As a supporter, you’ll be giving back to your community, while receiving a tax-deductible contribution and an opportunity to promote your business and gain valuable exposure to 500 guests.

We anticipate this year’s event will be better than ever before, and it is our hope that you will consider becoming a partner of The Arc of the Capital Area so that we may continue our mission to care for valuable members of our community and their caregivers.

Please fill out and return the enclosed donation sheet. If you have any additional questions, please do not hesitate to call. Thank you in advance for your time and consideration of The Arc of the Capital Area.

Best Regards,
